

National Foster Care Month FAQ

<https://www.childwelfare.gov/fostercaremonth>

What is National Foster Care Month?

May is National Foster Care Month—a time to acknowledge the foster parents, family members, volunteers, mentors, policymakers, child welfare professionals, and other members of the community who help children and youth in foster care find permanent homes and connections. It is also a time to focus on ways to create a bright future for the nearly 400,000 children and youth in foster care.

How does the Children's Bureau support National Foster Care Month?

The Children's Bureau—together with its information service, Child Welfare Information Gateway; the National Resource Center for Permanency and Family Connections; the National Resource Center for Youth Development; Voice for Adoption; the National Association of State Foster Care Managers; and the National Foster Parent Association—supports National Foster Care Month through a website on Child Welfare Information Gateway.

What resources will be available on the National Foster Care Month website?

This year, the theme for National Foster Care Month is "Building Blocks to Permanent Families." The website provides resources about supporting permanence through reunification, kinship care, guardianship, and adoption for children, youth, and families involved with child welfare. Access the resources:

<https://www.childwelfare.gov/fostercaremonth/resources/>

What are Real-Life Stories?

Storytelling is a powerful way to connect real-life scenarios to important practice issues. The National Foster Care Month website features real-life stories of children, youth, and families that can help child welfare workers, managers, training staff, and others engage audiences in a variety of settings. From training to recruitment, these inspiring stories are great tools for gaining perspective and highlighting the role each of us has in enhancing the lives of children and youth in foster care. View the stories: <https://www.childwelfare.gov/fostercaremonth/reallifestories/>

How can I spread the word about National Foster Care Month?

There are a number of tools you can use to help promote National Foster Care Month. Check them out:

<https://www.childwelfare.gov/fostercaremonth/promote/>

- Sample email signatures
- Sample email messages
- Sample Facebook posts
- Sample tweets
- Graphics
- Widgets

How can I learn about what other States are doing for National Foster Care Month?

Did you ever want to know what other States are doing to celebrate National Foster Care Month? Want to contact colleagues in other States to learn about their foster care policies? Access to State officials and other foster care information is available through the State Foster Care Contacts map. Take time during National Foster Care Month to get to know your colleagues across the country and learn about their work. View State Foster Care Contacts:

<https://www.childwelfare.gov/fostercaremonth/more/contacts/>

Tell me more about the history of the Children's Bureau and foster care.

Throughout its history, the Children's Bureau has worked to assist children and youth in foster care; engage youth in decisions that affect their lives; and support foster families, kinship caregivers, child welfare professionals, and others who help these children. Learn more: <https://www.childwelfare.gov/fostercaremonth/more/about.cfm>

Learn more about the history of the Children's Bureau: <https://cb100.acf.hhs.gov/>

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Administration for Children and Families
Administration on Children, Youth and Families
Children's Bureau

